

MY SOUL TONIGHT

Sometimes this world can be so cruel
Beat you to the ground with tearful trials
The pain seems to equal dreams
Broken and bruised swimming down stream

When all around is a pandemonium blur
Deep from within is where recovery begins
More reasons than none make me write
Love is in my soul I have light

More reasons than none make me keep sight
Love is in my soul it feels so right
Fear can cloud my eyes
Cold uncaring faces grey like stone
Chills me sometimes to the bone
All these fears that bring you down
Abandon me coz I know I'm found

Faith makes me climb to highs
Warmth fills my heart my pen fly's
Lifts up my soul wraps around consoles
Proudly indeed I write
I have love in my soul tonight
